ANNEXURE

Government Order No. RDF 64 TFA 67, dated the 1st September, 1967.

Rules for the administration and operation of the grants provided by Government in the Budget of each year for affording relief to the sufferers in accidental fire cases.

1. These rules shall be called Rules for the administration of the grants that will be provided by Government in the Budget of each year for affording relief by way of grants to the sufferers in Accidental Fire cases in the State.

2. The Divisional Commissioner shall be the Chief Controlling Authority for the administration of the Funds. He will distribute the grants sanctioned in each year to the several Districts.

3. The grant need not be confined to persons paying Land Revenue to Government. Relief will be extended to all sufferers in fire accidents who are really poor and require Government help for rehabilitation.

4. The extent and nature of relief shall have direct bearing on the immediate needs of the sufferer with particular reference to the number of members in the family and his minimum requirements for getting rehabilitated in his previous occupation or employment. The relief given need not necessarily be in proportion to the extent of loss sustained by the sufferers as it is neither possible nor necessary that a sufferer be given relief fully for the loss he might sustain due to a fire accident.

5. The Tahsildar shall investigate and determine the extent and nature of relief to be given in each case, having due regard to the factors mentioned above.

6. Each family shall be treated as a unit for purposes of grant of relief.

Note :—Family for purposes of these rules mean wife or husband, legitimate children and step-children residing with and wholly dependent on the sufferer and includes his parents, sisters and minor brothers, if residing with and wholly dependent on him.

7. The maximum amount of relief for any one family shall not exceed ordinarily Rs. 500.

8. The Tahsildars and Assistant Commissioners are authorised to sanction relief not exceeding Rs. 50 and Rs. 100 respectively, to each family. The Deputy Commissioners are empowered to sanction relief not exceeding Rs. 250 and the Divisional Commissioners to sanction relief not exceeding Rs. 500 to each family. Cases of relief exceeding the limit of Rs. 500 shall require the sanction of Government.

9. (a) The preceding rule is subject to the following limits :

Sl. No.	Name of Officer	Maximum limit up to which the powers under the preceding rule are to be exercised
1	In the case of Tahsildar.	Not exceeding Rs. 1,000 in any one case of fire accident.
2	In the case of Assistant Commissioner.	Not exceeding Rs. 2,000 in any one case of fire accident.
3	In the case of Deputy Commissioner.	Not exceeding Rs. 4,000 in any one case of fire accident.
4	In the case of Divisional Commissioner.	Not exceeding Rs. 10,000 in any one case of fire accident.

(b) Cases exceeding the limit of Rs. 10,000 shall require the sanction of Government.

Explanatory Note :—For purposes of this Rule—

(a) one case of fire accident shall mean one fire accident in a village or town involving one or more families.

(b) the amount noted in column (3) represents the total amount of relief that can be afforded in a fire accident.

10. Cash relief should just cover the cost of foodgrain and clothing, if any, needed immediately.

11. Building materials may be given free according to the requirements of each case. The value of the building materials supplied from forests may be paid direct by the Revenue Department to the Forest Department. In the case of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, the material is supplied free of cost.

12. Cash relief sanctioned in each case shall be disbursed by the Tahsildar.

(SRI B. RACHAIAH)

13. Cash relief may be granted to each of the sufferers in fire accidents on the following basis :—

(a) For loss sustained of below Rs. 100, cash relief of up to Rs. 20.

(b) For loss sustained of between Rs. 100 and Rs. 500 cash relief of Rs. 20 to Rs. 50.

(c) For loss sustained of between Rs. 500 and Rs. 1,000 cash relief of Rs. 50 to Rs. 70.

(d) For loss sustained of more than Rs. 1,000 cash relief up to Rs. 100.

14. As regards the procedure regarding grant of cash relief to the sufferers, Government consider that no hard and fast rules can be laid down regarding the quantum of relief to be granted as the method and extent of such relief will mainly depend upon the nature and extent of loss sustained, the social and financial position of the sufferers, the amount required to provide food, clothing and temporary shelter immediately, the contributions raised from the public or charitable institutions, etc. The Revenue Officers should, therefore, decide the quantum of relief and the method of its distribution having regard to the circumstances of each case, keeping in view the principle that Government aid is necessarily restricted to supplementing private charity.

15. Cash relief at the scales laid down in Rule 13 will be in addition to other reliefs that may be sanctioned by the Revenue and Forest Officers by way of grant of building materials. The total relief including the value of building materials shall not exceed Rs. 500 for any one family as laid down in Rule-7.

*Note :—*Under Rule 15 the value of clothes and food-stuffs to be supplied to the sufferers, in addition to other reliefs by way of free grant of building materials may be adjusted towards the relief permissible only when they are paid for from Government funds and not from local help or contribution.
